

Operated by the Virginia Department of Conservation and Recreation, Cedar Crest Conference Center is part of Twin Lakes State Park in Prince Edward County, in the heart of southside Virginia, 65 miles southwest of Richmond and 98 miles east of Roanoke.

Burkeville is five minutes away, and Farmville is 17 miles west of the park.

Cedar Crest is within an hour's drive of four other state parks and three colleges: Longwood, Hampden-Sydney and Southside Community College.

For more information, call (434) 767-2398.

For detailed information about Cedar Crest, visit www.dcr.state.va.us/parks/cedarcre.htm

Department of Conservation & Recreation
CONSERVING VIRGINIA'S NATURAL & RECREATIONAL RESOURCES

Cedar Crest

conference center

Twin Lakes State Park

catering to the mind, body and spirit

For a full service residential conference center in a serene and tranquil environment and a relaxed atmosphere for meetings, conferences, training or retreats, choose Cedar Crest Conference Center.

Less than an hour from Richmond, Cedar Crest Conference Center is the natural choice for your meeting, retreat, company picnic, wedding or family reunion.

From state of the art audiovisual equipment and a high-speed videoconferencing system to fully catered conferences, our modern facilities and stunning scenery will make your event a unique and memorable success they'll talk about for years.

Spend a restful night in a cabin in the woods and wake up to the sun shining, birds singing and your meeting just a casual stroll away. Later, your group can enjoy anything from formal, sit-down dining to a catered cookout on the grill.

The main conference hall with a panoramic view of the lake, two breakout rooms, cabins, lodge, decks, picnic shelters, rolling, lake-front grounds and catering service gives your group an exclusive feeling at an affordable price.

• Rates within both state and federal per diem.

• Group, government and pre-booking incentives and discounts.

• Event planning services, support services, and food and beverage catering.

• High-speed Internet connection and videoconferencing capabilities.

• Seven cabins and a four-bedroom lodge; overnight accommodations for up to 48.

• A main room and two smaller meeting rooms, for groups of five to 125.

• On-site meeting professionals.

Nestled within Twin Lakes State Park, Cedar Crest guests can relax and enjoy the quiet serenity of fishing, hiking, boating and swimming, or explore the unique history and culture of the park and the region, including nearby Sailor's Creek Battlefield Historic State Park.

Whatever your needs, our experienced staff provides expert attention to even the smallest detail. Cedar Crest Conference Center is the natural choice. For more information, call (434) 767-2398.